

19th January, 2016 by Lucy Shaw

← Previous

Slideshow 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

Next →

Pickering Place, £50

Cocktail one, The Elegant, is made with Bombay Sapphire Gin, Cocchi Rosa, Campari, lemon juice, egg white, saffron syrup and Champagne, while cocktail two, The Bold, features Jack Daniel's Single Barrel, Fernet Branca Menta, Byrrh, sugar syrup and coffee.

London's smallest public square, Pickering Place, is located down a narrow passageway off St James' Street. Historically, the square was a popular venue for illicit activities, particularly duelling and is thought to be the last London site where a duel took place.

Secret Agent, £16

This heady cocktail blends Woodford Reserve Bourbon, Laphroaig whisky, Cocchi Amaro, absinthe, lemon juice, sugar syrup and egg white.

Taken from the Hackney chapter of the menu, the drink tips its hat to the Gainsborough Pictures film studios founded in 1924, which produced B Movies and melodramas. Alfred Hitchcock made some of his classics here, though the studios were demolished in 2002.